Nothing Means Anything To Me

Bride

Underground is where I live Feel mother earth against my skin I would crawl through her and veins never pretend My face would be so pale Never chapped by the wind I can't cry anymore I can't cry anymore Nothing means anything to me Nothing means anything to me I would send roses to all my friends They will ask how much did you spend? Someone will ask what will God do next? Maybe another world a little less complex In this world you can loose faith But you're just guessing at what awaits Better put your faith in God and just believe Or you will be eating dirt just like me
