

Silence Is Madness

Bride

(I hear the drums pounding to take me away
Roaring with thunder, shattering the break of day
Voices chilling me with harmonic terror
This prison remains my hell forever

Marching footsteps of soldiers rattle the walls
Tumbling stones, fake voices of the innocent calls
And the rain fills the cracks made in the ground
By the bombs dropped without a sound

Darkness roams through the air, shadow of death
Lightning blisters the sky, the lips of the earth to caress
My eyes – they will close, they will die by the violence
I will turn my back to the madness and breathe the silence)

There is a town where no man walks
The streets are silent and the walls don't talk
Still in the past a ghost may wait
Open the door or close the gate

Though time has passed them by
A day will come when the secrets will die
Upon the mountain strong and high
In the darkness the mystery lies

Silence is madness
Silence is madness around the world
Silence is madness
Silence is madness around the world

Warden mist in ancient halls
People scraping on the walls
Chapter of voices are crying
To the cloudless nights are flying

When you hear the wind whistle and moan
You'll pray for the light to be shown
When the darkness turns to gray
Forever has come and one more day

Silence is madness
Silence is madness around the world
Silence is madness
Silence is madness around the world

Upon the land the air is red
Tombstone of the bloody dead
Let the land shine and then will burn
For soon, my friend, your king will return

Touching the muted hearts that cry
Brings us closer towards space in time
Sometimes our words are too misleading
When no one smiles and all is weeping

Silence is madness
Silence is madness around the world

Silence is madness
Silence is madness around the world

Silence is madness
Silence is madness