Let Him Know

Bryan Adams

1. Another day goes by Still you wonder what happened You'd give the world for one more try But you're too shy to ask him You don't want to ask him now I know your heart will pull you through If he means that much to you, yeah R: You gotta let him know (Let him know, know that you love him) Let him know that you love him (Let him know, know that you need him) You gotta let him know (Let him know, know that you want him now) 2. What can I say? It's up to you You gotta make up your own mind It's your life, it's up to you Cause you didn't believe me You still don't believe me now You're gonna see it's all coming true That's why I'm leaving it up to you, yeah R: You gotta let him know...

The news is out I guess you heard You shouldn't breathe a single word The bottom line is nothing's going to stop you now You gotta let him know....
