

Same Kinda Man

Candice Glover

I can see myself falling
I can only feel the sweet butterflies
I can only see the hurting
I can feel the teardrops falling from my eyes

And I know it's not alright to give it to you
But the passion can't deny what's inside

(Chorus)

So I do not run while I can
Cause I always seem to be loving the same kind of man
I do not run while I can
Cause I always seem to be loving the same kind of man

What you do to me has got me going crazy
You got me out of my mind with your smile
And I know you are a little shady
But the way you are makes me wild

And I know who you are and I know what you do
I've been down that road so many times before
But the weakness I have is to give on into Coming back around and round for more

(Chorus)

So I do not run while I can
Cause I always seem to be loving the same kind of man
I do not run while I can
Cause I always seem to be loving the same kind of man

And I wanna believe that things are gonna change
But you're the exception to all the rules
But then again old habits die hard
And I wondered before

(Chorus x2)

So I do not run while I can
Cause I always seem to be loving the same kind of man
I do not run while I can
Cause I always seem to be loving the same kind of man

I always seem to be loving the same kind of man
(same kind of man)
I must be crazy
Always end up loving the, always end up loving the same
