Yeah, because

Well I see him everday In that blanket that he calls home I wonder does he know That his family they're left alone He says brother can you spare Can you spare a dime I'm down to my last dollar And this life of mine Said this life of mine It gets rought at times Now I wonder does he know Does he even care That his family, they're safe at home and they wonder hwere As he wanders thorugh his life, he's ever searchin' for A warm blanket on warm fields and he wanders on And he wonders is he safe from the cold Safe out from the cold Well I see he left the other day Took his blanket that he called home Did he go for good Or did he pass away Well I wonder does he know See I'm down to my last dollar And this life of mine Said this life of mine, it gets rough at times And now I wonder does he know Does he even care That my family is safe at home And they wonder where As I wander through my life Ever searchin' for My warm blanket on warm fields as I wander on And I wonder Will I always helped along I said I, I'll never know No, no Because I I'll never go and yes, I I said I wonder why, yeah Beacause I, I Oh now I'll never go home I'll never come home Never come home Oh won't you let me come home 'Cause I wanna home Oh, said, oh I got... Ωh I'll never know Yes, I, I'll never go No, no Yes, I, I said I wonder why

Oh, oh no, I'll never come home
I'll never come
Never come home
Home...
I wanna come home
Won't you let me come home
'Cause I wanna come home
Let me come home...
