Here's A Health

Cara Dillon

Kind friends and companions, together combine And raise up your voices in chorus with mine Let us drink and be merry, all grief to refrain For we may and might never all meet here again

Here's a health to the company and one to my lass Let us drink and be merry all out of one glass Let us drink and be merry, all grief to refrain For we may and might never all meet here again

Here's a health to the wee lass that I love so well Her style and her beauty, there's none can excel There's a smile on her countenance as she sits on my knee Sure there's no one in in this wide world as happy as me

Here's a health to the company and one to my lass Let us drink and be merry all out of one glass Let us drink and be merry, all grief to refrain For we may and might never all meet here again

Our ship lies at harbor, she's ready to dock I hope she's safe landed without shake or shock And when we are sailing to the land of the free I will always remember your kindness to me

I have read this old proverb, I've read it so true My love is as fair as the bright morning dew I have read this old proverb, I suppose you have too So good friends and companions I bid you adieu

Here's a health to the company and one to my lass Let us drink and be merry all out of one glass Let us drink and be merry, all grief to refrain For we may and might never all meet here again
