

Together With All The Pain

Catafalque

The world continues to shrink
You are in it or not I do know everyone has to feel loneliness Are we the ones who create this or am I just swirling in the air what is already there
together with all the pain

I can steal the pain in your heart
I steal in the running night
I swim in the lakes of tears on your face Be the only sound in silence and let me be your voice forever
