

Turn Around

Cavo

When it's raining she says
Jesus is crying
the whole world is dead

it feels like the world is crashing around you, you cannot sit still, mindless encounters with people who say they'd never remember your name

pushed through with chemicals riding the seams to an empty apartment it's not what it's meant to be, living in fear, no one remembers your name

turn around
breaking the silence with sound
turn around

when all of the world is left in the silence there's nothing we fear except for the memories retired from age and no one remembers your name

When it's raining she says
Jesus is crying
the whole world is dead
and everyone's lying

turn around
breaking the silence with sound pushing through the walls of the crowd making their way to the sound

turn around
breaking the silence with sound
pushing through walls of the crowd turn around now
turn around, turn around now

When it's raining she says
Jesus is crying
the whole world is dead
and everyone's lying

turn around
breaking the silence with sound
pushing through walls of the crowd

turn around
breaking the silence with sound
pushing through walls of the crowd
making their way to the sound

turn around
breaking the silence with sound pushing through wall of the crowd
making their way to the sound

turn around now
turn around, turn around now