Everything We Want

Chanté Moore

I wish I was closer to you than you feel Our love can't be what it should be Not until we face our fears internally from the past And forgive ourselves for moving way too fast

If we continue not to let it go Pretty soon we're at a dead end road With hearts made of bitter stone Unable to give or receive love, right

Just wanna grow gray and old And live and die in happiness as one soul So come on, let's move on Out of this storm

Everything we want we can have, baby
If we both want it bad enough, I know
Everything we want we can have, baby
But we must build our faith and trust our love

We need to share the things we think honestly Without sacrificing peace and made uneasy We must revive the trust between us once again And share just as much when we were friends

Even after all that we've been through I don't want nobody else but you Better days are overdue for us two Baby, I just wanna

Just wanna grow gray and old And live and die in happiness as one soul So come on, let's move on Through the storm, hey

Everything we want we can have, baby
If we both want it bad enough, I know
Everything we want we can have, baby
But we must build our faith and trust our love

Why are we living in unhappiness and constantly stressed (Constantly stressed)
Forgetting how blessed we are to be together
We can do much better, I'm ready for a change
And I'm hoping you feel the same

So, oh baby, everything we want But we gotta believe, we gotta believe That we can have it Believe that everything

Everything we want we can have, baby
If we both want it bad enough, I know
Everything we want we can have, baby
But we must build our faith and trust our love

Everything we want we can have, baby

If we both want it bad enough, I know Everything we want we can have, baby But we must build our faith and trust our love

Everything we want we can have, baby If we both want it bad enough, I know
