Don't look in her eyes
'Cause there's something that you can't disguise
Don't try to catch her eye
Don't kiss her when you say goodbye

Don't let her stand so close to you
She knows, she knows, she knows what to do
I know that you can't resist
The lips you could have kissed when

She was so close! Like the sea on your skin
You would like to get drowned, you would love to dive in
In a body-search pose, don't you love her?
She came out of the blue
Bright blue skies above her

Don't ever keep in touch
She doesn't really love you so much
Don't think about the words she said
She wants more than she could get

Don't read the books she gave you
Don't sing the songs she sang
She's not the one to save you
She's the sea your boat could have sunk in when

She was so close! Like the sea on your skin
You would like to get drowned, you would love to dive in
In a body-search pose, don't you love her?
She came out of the blue
Bright blue sky above her parara rarara.

She was so close! Like the sea on your skin
You would like to get drowned, you would love to dive in
In a body-search pose, don't you love her?
She came out of the blue
Bright blue skies
She was so close! Like the sea on your skin
You would like to get drowned, you would love to dive in
In a body-search pose, don't you love her?
She came out of the blue
Bright blue skies
