Till the End of Time

Why...do you love me like you do Baby you deserve much more Why...after all I've put you through Would you stick around for more

Heaven's at my feet now that I've found you Life seems so complete when I'm around you No one else could touch me quite so deeply No one's love could satisfy me so sweetly Love me till the end of time

Why...even though you know I'm crazy Do you still believe in me Why...does a smile come so easy Baby, since you set me free

Free from all the weary wasted hours Free from all those meaningless encounters Free to live our lives the way we want to Free to realize just what we've been through Love me till the end of time

Heaven's at my feet now that I've found you Life seems so complete when I'm around you No one else could touch me quite so deeply No one's love could satisfy me so sweetly Love me till the end of time

Love me...only you can love me like you...
