Arrival Of Love

Circus Maximus

The morning came... I can see you lying there Your body next to mine, "Oh God, she looks so fine..." All my life I've been searching for someone I thought it was lost Then suddenly I met you...

I can not lose it all Feel the love The feelings I thought were gone, calling me "You can not win 'em all" Is all I heard She's the one who'll be there Today

Finally the time has come to Give eternal love, and to Stay alive together is our destiny No more sorrow, no more pain And your presence keep me sane In the night I'll hold you tight Until the end

I can not lose it all Feel the love The feelings I thought were gone, calling me We can not win 'em all tonight The fear of letting go Now I'm the one who will be there

Where there's time for goodbye In the darkest devotion I'm the only one Feel my heat when the silence surrounds you tonight
