

Fair Enough

Cock Robin

Take this when you go
And finally
There's one thing you should know
You'll always have
A place in my heart
Endearing and acute

In such a clever way
To take apart the words that I say
And turn them round
To suit your own needs
Out of the loop
The final boot

Fair enough
Is fair enough
I should have known by now
I believe I'm growing up
If growing up's allowed
What is so wrong
To feel like I do
To say that I dream of you

Despite my maladroitness
There is no harm in trying my best
I thought the change
Would do you some good
Be careful not to slip

I'm on my feet
So keep your seat

I sure don't need a photograph
I'd never hold you down
I know how the dice's been cast
The jury's split
Get over it

Fair enough
Is fair enough
I should have known by now
I believe I'm growing up
If growing up's allowed

Fair enough
Is fair enough
I should have known by now
What is so wrong
To feel like I do

What is so wrong
To feel like I do
What is so wrong
To feel like I do
What is so wrong
To say that I dream of you

What is so wrong
To feel like I do
What is so wrong...
