Welcome to the afterlife...

Sitting by the river, I think I smell some rain Silver puddles glitter behind the old jail Wet snails get wetter, crawling towards perfume The air silks like snow

Moth wings crumble by a day-lit fire

Ash of dead wood pile

Higher, pyre for false gods,

Blazing mires

Welcome to the afterlife...

High afternoon times, afterlife times, Twilight's best for Venus flytrap Cloudless drops tear at my cheeks Brusque speak a raven beak Neon stars twinkle in the night Sage smoke, rainbow, money signs

Welcome to the afterlife...
