

End of Time

CocoRosie

This is the end of time
Lets all hug and say goodbye
This is the end of time
We are all heavenward and weary

The babes
The Guns
The waste
The punks
I don't need no human friends
The cars
The wars
The shopping malls
I can leave you all behind
And I will chase my brother's shadow
Leave my own hung in the closet
The stars that I could hardly see
I know you are looking down at me

And Jesus by the windier light
You always protected me
From fathers arm, his wicked laugh
It echoes through the canyon
The earth will spit us out one day
Like broken angels cast away
Lets just hug and say goodbye
We are all heavenwards and weary

This is the end of time
Lets all hug and say goodbye
This is the end of time
We are all heavenward and weary

When love will come into our hearts
On that final day where lights
Mets us at the edge of time
This will not be televised
The televisions all have died
Filled with water-cyanide
Angeles, winged ones will survive
We are all blind smoke in our eyes
So lets just hug and say goodbye
We are all heavenwards and weary

This is the end of time
Lets all hug and say goodbye
This is the end of time
We are all heavenward and weary
