

No Escape

coldrain

There is a weight on my shoulders
I've carried with me far too long
Now this song is my farewell to the fear I've held
Cuz I finally know
There's no escape, no escape
From what I want

Running and running for so many days
Useless excuses have got me no where
Running and running till I hit the edge
From this day on I liberate myself

I still remember how they'd say
My dreams are steps from suicidal
But what's the point in aiming low
When in the end I know

I'll still want more

There's no escape, no escape
from what I want

Running and running for so many days
Useless excuses have got me no where
Running and running till I hit the edge
From this day on I liberate myself

It's my turn to shine
Light the sky so bright
It's my turn to shine

Running and running for so many days
Useless excuses have got me no where
Running and running till I hit the edge
From this day on I liberate myself
I liberate myself
I liberate myself
