

What I Can Give You

Collective Soul

Imagine again
I lean a little closer just to breathe you in Words are in bloom
They wake me with their meaning and their Thoughts of you

I can't give you
Treasures that only men have made
But what I can give you
No one can ever take away

Twisting the day
I always lose myself so I can find your way Promises be
They whisper all the yearning
That I swear you'll need

I've got a long way
a long way to come down
