I do believe in the things you say Although I don't agree, agree today That life is cruel to live without me The dark that clings on to me makes your deception hard to see

Nothing in life is worth to die for Eyes to see with that's what they are there for But I am just too young to die I am too young to care at all

I trust in God to make me see If there is something wrong
Something wrong with me
I need to know,
put my faith in you to make me feel to distinguish between fake and real I use my youth
