

Escape is So Simple

Cowboy Junkies

The way you kissed me this morning it told me that you soon would be going You didn't even look in my eyes when you said goodbye

And last night in your sleep you broke all the promises that I knew you would never keep Now I'm reading the letter which you placed on the dresser and you're five hundred miles down the road

Escape is so simple
in a world where sunsets can be raced
But distance only loses the knife
the pattern of its scar
can always be traced

Yeah, I remember when we said 'forever' was the craziest word that we knew but I think that I like it much better than I do 'goodbye'

And I could sit here all evening and think of the reasons why you are not by my side Instead I'll go to the kitchen, find a strong chair to sit in and drink myself far, far away

Escape is so simple
in a world where sunsets can be raced
But distance only loses the knife
the pattern of its scar
can always be traced
