You Can Touch

Crowded House

It could spell my mere defeat You could find it's what you need And you can touch me I feel the fear and I know I'm alive And tears will fall and oceans will rise I won't hide You can touch me

I won't die I'm thin and pale and I need to unwind My condition is hard to define See no future from where I stand For the present I am in your hands And you can touch me

You can touch me I won't die I won't hide And tears will fall and oceans will rise

I feel the fear and I know I'm alive It's only passing through

You can touch me And you can touch me I won't hide

I won't die I won't dieYou can touch
