Stealer of Minds

Crystal Tears

You've eyes to see, but you never see nothing You've ears to hear, but no sound passes by Just look in me, my gaze has the power Total paralyzed

You've mind to think, but the mind cells are empty

A tongue to speak, no words make a rhyme I am your shadow, reflection and fate Born to be your guide

The world starts to change
No more thoughtful minds
You cause your own death with your ignorance

I am collector of thoughts Stealer of minds and of souls Hypnotized you follow me Lambs to the slaughter I lead

Don't look for answers the future is mine Don't be no fool brains slowly die A mystic symphony of slavery Ruler of your kind

No more "if', no more "who'', no more "what" Questions now belong to the past No liberty, no freedom in sight You're damned for all time

The world starts to change...

I am collector of thoughts...

I am collector of thoughts...
