

Little Land

D.I.

Life before me dictates the future;
The future of your kind.

The first time I saw you there, feeling the great despair; they
're psychoanalyzing our minds.

Thought patterns going through me, can't believe what I see, so metimes I don't even wanna try.

Another day, another dime, I'm wondering if it'll take much tim e; but I'm gonna fight to the end, I'm not gonna die, I'm not g onna die.

When I look in your eyes, I see the fire, I think I'm about to explode. I just can't take it.

When I look in your eye, I see the fire, I think I'm about expl ode.

As I'm burnin' up inside I think I'll take life for a ride. Sur vival of the fittest, all the way.

Maybe if the Darkness comes were gonna be ready man, were not d one. We're up and ready cause' I'm gonna fight back, we're gonn a fight back!

Cause when I look in your eyes I see the fire, I think I'm abou t to explode. I just can't take it.

When I look in your eyes, you see the power, the power starts t o unload. Unload it!

As I was walking I heard voices talking, these voices were talk ing to me.

We all have our own wars. Grab your rifle, hit the sand. Now we know were living, were living in such a little land!

Such a little land. Such a little land. Such a little land!
