Not of this world And nothing bites like I do Nothing screams out loud In this empty night Nothing can keep me from you

And you think that you know
The reason I'm alive
Truth is you only know the lies

Not of this world And nothing can hold it back I am the dawn upon Your bloody beach, come to pass

Not of this world For I am nothing known When the seasons shift They call my name to carry me home

And you think that you know
The reason I'm alive
Truth is you only know the lies

And I feel all the things You could never understand Choose where you stand Am I mortal, are you man?

Not of this world Nothing bites like I do Nothing screams out loud This empty night, keep me from you

Choose where you stand Am I mortal, are you man?

Not of this world For I am nothing known When the seasons shift They call my name to carry me home
