

The Blood On My Hands

Darkside

blood you open the door to into the bride's room it's the secret it's decay born from fleshe's deepest need rose upon my altar - i'm the rose on your altar until two fades into one and one is death god! as my fingers run through your thighs - I feel your fingers in my thighs smearing my seed over blood over death - smear your seed over m e at midnight rutting bride reaching for blooms beyond the veil tell you my secret god died for flesh's need please come you shivering bride the devil must feast for lust of the dead lust slashes hate immaculation of dreams

born from blood crying red can you hear the strike of azrael's wings as your man I'm gonna take you I'll possess you entirely musti, so gods will, cut your throat my dove and drink your blood and your twitching foaming death suck your entrails your bashful modesty your cries build a coffin of laughter and lust beneath my bleeding hands...

rose on my altar until two fades into one and one is me god!
