Daughter

Still

I'll wrap up my bones And leave them Out of this home Out on the road Two feet standing on a principle Two hands longing for each others warmth Cold smoke seeping out of colder throats Darkness falling, leaves nowhere to go It's spiraling down Biting words like a wolf howling Hate is spitting out each others mouths But we're still sleeping like we're lovers Still with feet touching Still with eyes meeting Still our hands match Still with hearts beating Still with feet touching Still with eyes meeting Still our hands match Still with hearts beating Still with feet touching Still with eyes meeting Still our hands match Still with hearts beating Two feet standing on a principle Two hands digging in each others wounds Cold smoke seeping out of colder throats Darkness falling, leaves nowhere to move It's spiraling down Biting words like a wolf howling Hate is spitting out each others mouths But we're still sleeping like we're lovers Still with feet touching Still with eyes meeting Still our hands match Still with hearts beating Still with feet touching Still with eyes meeting Still our hands match Still with hearts beating Still with feet touching Still with eyes meeting Still our hands match Still with hearts beating
