

Shades Of The Past

Debbie Gibson

Red as the roses come My love it never was dark as the evening sky
We let love pass us by I was caught in the middle somewhere in the gray
Now it's time to leave that all behind my uncertain yesterdays

Now it's black or white
Now it's wrong or right
I can't live without you here
Shades of the past are long gone
I've got one thing on my mind...
There's a choice to make There'll be no mistake
The time has come around
I'm leaving no middle ground
Let my heart be the only sound

Pink is not red or white but you brought me pink roses tonight and I got to thinking to myself
oh the time is right
A promise is stronger than a whisper
So I say "goodbye" to our yesterdays
and leave behind those shades of gray

Let my heart be the only, only sound (black or white, wrong or right)
Oh there's a choice to make
There'll be no mistake
The time has come around
I'm leaving no middle ground
Let my heart be the only (only) sound