

You Know Me

Debbie Gibson

Oh baby

You know me

I know people say they know you
But they've each a different face to show you
Honest people don't they take you
When they know you and they say they hate you
Why don't we take the time
To get to know each other
Isn't it worth it

Cause you, you remember what I say
Don't throw my words away
And that means the world to me oh baby
You know what I do what I do
Not a wall you can't see through
You look inside, yeah you know me

I've five fingers to count friends on
And they stand for what my life depends on
I don't get it those who don't try
So many molds and rules to live by
Break out of your shell
Put all hearts and souls out there
So glad I found you

You, you remember what I say
Don't throw my words away
And that means the world to me oh baby
You know what I do what I do
Not a wall you can't see through
You look inside, yeah you know me

Now the surface is skimmed
Who knows what's in it
People can't feel what you're meaning

You, you remember what I say
Don't throw my words away
And that means the world to me oh baby, baby, baby
You know what I do what I do
Not a wall you can't see through
You look inside, yeah you know me

You, you remember what I say
Don't throw my words away
That means the world to me oh baby
You know what I do what I do
