

All Hearts Aren't Shaped The Same

Deborah Cox

Please don't change the way you are.
There's no one like you for me.
I could search my whole lifetime,
To find someone like you

I can't expect anyone to know how I feel.
Even though, I'm so lucky to get to know your heart
For myself, right away.
You showed me that it's okay to love.
Cause you showed me all hearts aren't shaped the same

Oh
By myself, but not alone.
I connect with you mind, body and soul.
You're like a sweet dream.
But you're real. Yes you are
You're blessed with a heart of gold

I can't expect anyone to know how I feel.
Even though, I'm so lucky to get to know your heart
For myself, right away.
You showed me that it's okay to love.
Cause you showed me all hearts aren't shaped the same

They think they're protecting me
By standing in our way
Cause I've been hurt by another guy before.
He told me lies, but your love gives me butterflies.
I know your heart beats for me.
And one day I know they will see

But I can't expect anyone to know how I feel
Even though, I'm so lucky to get to know your heart
For myself, right away.
Showed me that it's okay to love.
Cause you showed me all hearts aren't shaped the same

Cause you showed me that all hearts aren't shaped the same
Not the same