

Dealer

Deep Purple

1. If you fool around with the dealer
Remember soon you'll have to pay.
He'll creep behind you like a hunter
Just to steal your soul away.
2. I don't want no one messing with my woman
But just the same, I don't see nobody fooling with you
If you're snowblind Madonna can hold you
But if you don't understand
There is nothing she can do for you.

Running from the dealer
Trying to save your soul

3. I can feel the fire coming from inside you
I know what it's like, 'cause I've been burned before.
Ain't no mercy in the hunger
You're a fool to yourself
'Cause your dealer keeps you begging for more.

Running from the dealer
Trying to save your soul

In the beginning all you wanted
Was the calm before the storm
If the bluebird plays the eagle, yeah
He finds his song will turn to stone dealer.
