

Hey, Hey, Hey

Delta Rae

Hey hey hey
Don't you want to love me now baby?
Hey hey hey
Ain't you thinking 'bout me?
I've been trying to get you off of my mind for some time now
Ain't going well baby

Ain't much room left baby 'tween these four walls
Our hearts have grown as heavy as cannonballs
I tried to love you babe and I'm trying still I've always loved you babe and I always will

The neighbor's dogs are chained, they don't bark no more
Nothing happens here that's worth yelling for
But there'd be music babe if we ever walked by
You know we'd wake the world if we only tried, and I say

Hey hey hey
Don't you want to love me now baby?
Hey hey hey
Ain't you thinking 'bout me?
I've been trying to get you off of my mind for some time now
Ain't going well baby
Won't you think about loving me?

Your window's open babe, but your doors are closed
You want a breeze to sweep in and shake your bones
But the sky is clear as day and the air is calm
So come on out and play I'm not here that long

'Cause the times are tough now babe, but they're ours to own
Make the most of it or just stay at home
I've come by once and I won't be back again
Aw, who am I kidding babe, won't you let me in?

Hey hey hey
Don't you want to love me now baby?
Hey hey hey
Ain't you thinking 'bout me?
I've been trying to get you off of my mind for some time now
Ain't going well baby
Won't you think about loving me?
