When the lights go up in Houston it's time to rodeo, down by the chutes every

Cowboy is sackin' up his go, you can tell the man by the shape of his hat or

The boots

Or the boots that he's in, but they got one thing in common, it 's the way it's Always been, whether ropin' orn ridin' or doggin' they'll never be seen without

Their lucky thirteen MWZ's.

chourus:

It stands for the rough and rugged hard workin' man, an America n tradition of

The western brand, it signifies a way of life designed for a different breed, 13 MWZ.

When the sun goes down in Tulsa, it's time to honky tonk, their jammin' up in

The doorway country music's what they want, in walks a man and he's turnin' the

Head of each

Women he passes by, he's got a 10xxxxxxxxx Stetson and a Georg e Strait smile,

Their all linin' up for a two step, he's causin' a scene in his starched 13 $\,$ MWZ's.
