

Diva of Disgust

Despised Icon

Like a drug, you asphyxiated me with fulfilment.
Your eyes, like needles,
Fed my brain with addictive enhancement.
Are you that long awaited ray of hope
Or is this another twisted side of the same tale?

You traded your wings, traded your wings for horns
And I replaced you with a sharper solution.
I went deeper than you ever will.

Your reign didn't last for long.
You were wrong all along.
The diva took her outfit off.
An egocentric drama queen now stood in front of my eyes.

You traded your wings, traded your wings for horns
And I replaced you with a sharper solution.
I went deeper than you ever will.

You lost your grasp once and for all.
Karma will get you back.

I won't hold any grudges.
She simply vanished and if that goody Christian girl was right.
Karma will get her back.
