

Last Call

Dierks Bentley

Early in the afternoon is the only time my mind is clear
To think of you and the love we knew, it's a memory I hold so dear
Now we're apart I've got a broken heart, the tears fall so sincere
I know it's wrong but before too long, it's gonna be whiskey and beer

Last call for alcohol still ringing in my head
You must've ordered two more double shots from the shape that you're in
There ain't no stopping my bar hopping, I should've stayed home instead
Last call for alcohol still ringing in my head

You got to stop the way you're living, you better change your short life ways
Smoking, drinking and loving, you're just numbering your days
Though I know what I need to do, if I could just turn around to day
But her memory catches up with me and this bar stool's where I'll stay

Last call for alcohol still ringing in my head
You must've ordered two more double shots from the shape that you're in
There ain't no stopping my bar hopping, I should've stayed home instead
Last call for alcohol still ringing in my head

Last call for alcohol still ringing in my head
You must've ordered two more double shots from the shape that you're in
There ain't no stopping my bar hopping, I should've stayed home instead
Last call for alcohol still ringing in my head

Last call for alcohol still ringing in my head