

Until You Die

Dimension Zero

There is nowhere left to go, tomorrow never gets here to this abandoned ground, where I can sleep within

Now the air is dark, now the coldness breathes now you see the sign, now you see it reign

When this fire starts to weaken out your soul the tender bows of innocence is the first to burn the cold and empty winds will rise and all the goodness is in f ear

Walk with me to pain & suffocation Walk through me with anger & frustration Walk around me with the fear & ache Can you feel it? Are you ready to break?

When the seed is sown, you're about to see that the evil that you fed, is nothing else but me you will beg to be, a soulless evil being do you know my name? do you feel the shame?

There is nowhere left to hide and the only way is to ride upon the crucial tide, you're stuck with me until you die
