Disco Ensemble

Scattered on a satin bed
Body parts without a head
I can not function when you're not around
So push it up to raise the dead
Out of words and out of breath
I can not function when you're not around

And when I'm tired of walking alone
I put my headphones on
And when it's time to get out of it all
I put my headphones on
And when it feels like everything's wrong
I put my headphones on
And when it's time to get out of it all
I don't want to listen to the static on the radio

Dancing through the tower blocks
Snare drum hits like handgun shots
I can not function when you're not around
A guillotine to make a cut
Now push it louder, don't ever stop
I can not function when you're not around

Climbing up the wall of sleep
Sliding on the surfaces
Put the music loud enough to raise the dead
Now build it up until my ears burn
My body drops into another world
Put the music loud enough to raise the dead

And that's when the song goes?
