Yeah We The Best Music DJ Khaled

Please, Khaled, don't pair me or compare me Unless the said party is a rare breed The stories I hear, they tend to mirror me At this point now, rap is only therapy President Push, I'm more Eric B I ain't no joke, check out my melody Felony, felony, felony, that's al they selling me But 2 million in large bills is billing me I was on the wrong side of the law Like Pac was on the wrong side of the car Like B.I.G. at the Soul Train Awards The moral is all grace been driven G wagons are bulletproof The ones before me got snatched like bullet tooth Tony nigga, only one left from the drug era The jewelry weighs more in the drug mirror

Yeah, what you see when you look in the mirror, nigga? Haha Yeah, I know who the fuck I am

Yuugh, tell me how you fit in Was you a street nigga when Nas said it's written When Reasonable Doubt dropped, how was you living? I was leading up the grinding in my kitchen Getting work from Detroit like a piston We was on a mission, stuffer than a Michelin I could spend a year reminiscing The length of your career, reminiscing We can't occupy the same space We ain't even running the same race When it come to these bitches, it ain't the same chase Moynat versus lean, we ain't the same taste Therefore, it's no comparison To be mentioned with you niggas is embarrassing I am one Joe blow, you know my narrative Clear your sinus like Claritin Push

When you look in the mirror, what do you see, nigga?
'Cause I know when I look in the mirror, I know what I see
You peasants don't deserve my presence

You portraying other individuals
Me, I'm just weighing my residuals
From where success is the bare minimal
You a rapper, I'm a criminal
I had money before they found y'all
That's why I feel funny around y'all
Lord, bless those praying for my downfall
If I get too deep, don't let me drown, y'all
Hearing 'em talking 'bout how to flip a key
Started moving that Daddy Kane and Nicky D
Had the whole YPD sick of me

Don't sit, if you get tired, just pick a knee
Bet it all or bet it large
Now the coke or the pills or the crack, all these credit cards
I just laughed and I shrug at it
'Cause the niggas with the money are the drug addicts
Kiss
