

Dark Secret

Dog Eat Dog

you want step into my size 9's
-fine just remember that I mountain climb over terrain changing constantly like the weather it might be better if you reconsider you're not equiped to handle the business of grown man shit how we're dealing with big things known only to me and I think you may agree that staying in your shoes is the move for your kiddies

you can't do what I do you won't - you won't go where I go you don't see the things I see you don't - you don't know what I know would you reveal the things you conceal if you were told brutal truth given proof could you deal?

take the hard way of principal and ritual such is the true path of an individual would you conceive or even believe if it was calling your name could you even receive? deliberate steps dogmatic moves made correct and gettin' paper under tables to cashing pay checks yes!

where it begins when will it end?
that's the prominent question in the method of deception you never know how situations will go but you're playing the role when you try to control, see is it your pride?
keeps it alive you're all twisted inside you got something to hide you're not prepared for this attitude cause you something to prove nothing to lose

so what's your dark secret? Huh?
Tell me where the fuck do you keep it?
