

Time Machine

Domain

Where do I wanna spend the evening
Tonight I'm gonna break from living
Time no longer has a meaning

Into the dungeon of an ancient castle
Or far beyond into a space-life future
Time really doesn't have a meaning

Set sail to a distant future
Or back to yesterday
I know the mysteries of Eden
And what's two years away

I see - I feel
History around me

Fly faster than the speed of time
One thousand centuries behind
In my almighty time machine

Next to the flames of the burning Rome
With Cleopatra all alone
Time really doesn't have a meaning

At the party with the mighty Vikings
Next to the stage of the rock 'n' roll king
Time never ever has a meaning

Set sail to a distant future
Or back to yesterday
I know the mysteries of Eden
And what's two years away

I see - I feel
History around me

Fly faster than the speed of time
One thousand centuries behind
In my almighty time machine
