Downstait

Can the violence in your eyes guess the secrets on my lips?
Can we light the world on fire inside of each and every kiss?
Lay down your head full of reasons
They're just excuses for leaving

So take me on the downslide
'Cause there's no way I'm walking out

It's not broken, just impossible to see
I'm not giving up; we are the ghost in the machine

Have you ever seen the lies? They're the bolts that keep us in
Have you given yourself the time to know what this could have been?

Falling through moments in motion
This machine is not void of devotion

So take me on the downslide
'Cause there's no way I'm walking out

It's not broken, just impossible to see
I'm not giving up; we are the ghost in the machine
I'm not hoping for someone to set me free
Breaking through the rust, we are the ghost in the machine

Draining all the poison, in me, fighting the devotion, you see
Draining all the poison, in me, fighting the devotion, you see

So take me on the downslide
'Cause there's no way I'm walking out

So take me on the downslide
'Cause there's no way I'm walking out

It's not broken, just impossible to see
I'm not giving up; we are the ghost in the machine
I'm not hoping for someone to set me free
Breaking through the rust, we are the ghost in the machine
