

Say It To My Face

Downstait

Say it to my face!

Should've been a man, but you don't know how
Play your hand you lost, but it's too late now
Have to pay the price for things you've said, yeah!

Say it to my face!
Pretend that you're a man
Who had the nerve to stand
And look me in the eye

Say it to my face!
Soon enough I'll find you
In the dark behind you
I'll be waiting

If you got something to tell me,
Come out of the shadows now and
Say it to my face!

Give it up, should've known much better
Words spoken, no, they can't come home
You'd think that people keep your lies a secret
But their tongues go wagging, spill everything they know

Should've been a man, but you don't know how
Play your hand you lost, but it's too late now
Have to pay the price for things you've said, yeah!

Say it to my face!
Pretend that you're a man
Who had the nerve to stand
And look me in the eye

Say it to my face!
Soon enough I'll find you
In the dark behind you
I'll be waiting

If you got something to tell me,
Come out of the shadows now and
Say it to my face!

Words can build you like a dangerous weapon
Words can build a secret suicide
Your words seal the vergue and die if you
Can't take them back now its too late to try

Should've been a man, but you don't know how
Play your hand you lost, but it's too late now
Have to pay the price for things you've said, yeah!

Say it to my face!
Pretend that you're a man
Who had the nerve to stand
And look me in the eye

Say it to my face!
Soon enough I'll find you
In the dark behind you
I'll be waiting

If you got something to tell me,
Come out of the shadows now and
Say it to my face!

Every word has a price, you will pay it
Every wrong has a right, I'll make you say it
Every dog has his day, yours is ending
I'll put to rest that rebreath, that rebreath
That rebreath you intended

Say it to my face!
Pretend that you're a man
Who had the nerve to stand
And look me in the eye

Say it to my face!
Soon enough I'll find you
In the dark behind you
I'll be waiting

Say it to my face!
Pretend that you're a man
Who had the nerve to stand
And look me in the eye

Say it to my face!
Soon enough I'll find you
In the dark behind you
I'll be waiting

If you got something to tell me,
Come out of the shadows now and

If you got something to tell me,
Come out of the shadows now and

Say it to my face!
Say it to my face!