

Body Breakdown

DragonForce

Silent screams and shattered dreams of what we left at seventeen
Still lost within the misery and pain that lies inside
Here alone the fight to breathe still searching for the truth to be Blackened by the burning fire held deep inside my mind

Far beyond the lost horizon standing on the shore
Across the seas their hearts will bleed this life we're waiting for Taste the steel in pain you kneel for glory we defend
Our fallen souls will rise to fight again

Stay here with me this night we'll be together
Future in our hands we'll fight with freedom drawing near
Stand here with me for we will live forever
Tonight we stand and face it all

Falling rain will hide the pain that lies beneath the burning flames
All hope is gone so carry on before the world will fall
Rise again to die in vain, now life can never be the same
Our own salvation drawing nearer hear the darkness call

Skies are falling thunder storming, stand before the world
We're banished now to barren wastelands fight the demon whore
Riding on through blackened darkness cross the endless sands
We sail away our victory at hand

Stay here with me together we'll be stronger
Side by side we've conquered lands and stormed across the seas
Die here with me we feel this pain no longer
For now and ever we will be

In my heart in my soul I am out of control
Fly across the mountains and towards the distant sun
Tears evermore, we cry like before
Feel the breakdown of my body, set me free

In my heart in my soul I am out of control
Fly across the mountains and towards the distant sun
Tears evermore, we cry like before
Feel the breakdown of my body

In my heart in my soul I am out of control
Fly across the mountains and towards the golden sun
Tears evermore, we cry like before
Feel the breakdown of my body
Feel the breakdown of my body
Just scream, "Set me free"
