

Want You More!

Duran Duran

You had plans all along
Musta seen me coming down a mile above the ground
'Cause I am weak where you are strong
It's a thrill that makes me curious

Whatever I'm thinking of
You always seem to know
'Cause nothing is good enough
There's always something to keep me guessing

What if it's real, what if you're just faking?
What if you knew you could?
What if you get off on manipulating?
Why does it feel so good?

Drivin' the car turn up the sound
Gets yer head in a hailstorm, man I'm gonna feel the blast
I pick you up - you throw me down
And it only gets more serious

What could you be thinking of?
You never let it show
'Cause you give me just enough
There's always something

You keep it coming
What if it's real, what if your just faking?
What if you knew you could?
What if you get off on manipulating?

Why does it feel so good?
Why do I want you more? Why do I want you? Why do I feel so torn?
Why do I want you more? Why do I want you?
Why do I want you more?

What could you be thinking of?
You never let it show
'Cause you give me just enough
There's always something, you keep me coming

Just keep it coming
What if it's real, what if you're just faking?
What if you knew you could?
What if you get off on manipulating?

Why does it feel so good?
Why do I want you more? Why do I want you?
Why do I feel so torn?

Why do I want you more? Why do I want you? Why do I want you more?
Why do I want you more? Why do I want you? Why do I want you more?
Why do I want you more? Why do I want you? Why do I want you more?
