

Each Time

East 17

Have you heard of the saying for those who are playing
You don't know what you've got till it's gone
Well that was my calling, I knew I was falling
Into something that would be so wrong

But I caught hold of myself and changed for the better
I can't get you out of my mind
Cause something inside made me realise you were fine

Each time when we're alone, I guess I didn't know
How far we were apart, should've spoken to my heart
I guess I didn't know that each time you'd go away I'd cry
I can't take all these good-byes

I know from this feeling, deep inside there's healing
I know that I'm in control
Every day I am yearning, this love I feel burning
Burning right through my soul

So let's make a start of something that cannot be broken
The mould is so strong, treat this love as a child
That grows into something worthwhile

Deep, love so deep, deep love so deep, yeah
I can't take all these good-byes
Faithfully I will be, you will see, please believe me
I can't take all these good-byes

All the time we were alone
Guess I should've really know
Baby you have always been mine
