Ebony Tears

Out of chaos etched inside

New way of thinking state of sublime

Renewal, redemption this life is yours to form

Revalue, and question abhor the common norms

New mind, new life
Break away from standard thinking step outside the common norms

Break down deconstruct what's on the inside Redesign what you dislike Fall down when you reach the lowest point You see the world through different eyes

Erase your old life redeem your soul Come undone just let it grow Don't waste it, consume it, convert reality Give a life a facelift to fit your needs

New mind, new life Break away from standard thinking step outside the common norms

Break down deconstruct what's on the inside Redesign what you dislike Fall down when you reach the lowest point You see the world through different eyes

This is the way it feels Not what it used to be

Abhor common norms Life's yours to form
