

The Escaping Song

Eisley

I felt the wind shifting back on us.
Hold on, we have to run,

We can't escape, there's no way.
They'll call our names through the speakers.
Oh...

When they find you they'll retrieve you,
Take you where sphered domes will freeze you,

We can't escape, there's no way.
They'll call our names through the speakers.
Oh...

Men would die at sea for you, but all I want is you.
Men would live and die for you, but all I want is you, you.

These beautiful moments we share together all end now.
They'll make me drink this potion, i'll sleep forever,
Until I wake under the glacier ground,
The ground, the ground, oh yeah.
