

Evil Genius

eleventyseven

Out in the hallway
I said "hello.
The dance is this Friday
Do you want to go?"

"Probably not"
She promptly replied.
"But kudos for asking.
You're such a nice guy."

Yeah I should have known
I'd end up at home
Watching my Star Wars box trilogy.

But here is the truth.
If she only knew
That I've got a secret she'd never believe.

Kelly doesn't know that I'm an evil genius
With a sidekick dog named Grover Cleveland.
And she'll never know that we can take over the world.
With cyborg robot squirrels.
With cyborg robot squirrels.

Down in the basement
I wish she could see
The monkeys I've altered
Genetically.

And all of my plans to make a home on the moon.
It's not quite completed but it's coming soon.

When I fall asleep
All I do is dream
Of candlelit dates in the laboratory.

And when I'm awake
It's hard to concentrate.
On the assembly of my robot army.

Kelly doesn't know that I'm an evil genius
With a sidekick dog named Grover Cleveland.
And she'll never know that we can take over the world.
With cyborg robot squirrels.
With cyborg robot squirrels.

I worked up the nerve
To go to the dance.
There's no reason I
Couldn't give it a chance.

I walked through the door
And what should I see?
But it was Kelly staring back at me.

And she said
"I've always wanted to be a mad professor.

With a bottle-nosed dolphin I could name Sylvester.
If that's the kind of thing you're into I'm your girl."

'Cause I've been looking for an evil genius
With a sidekick dog named Grover Cleveland.
And now that I found you we can take over the world.
With cyborg robot squirrels.
With cyborg robot squirrels.
