

It's You I Make It For

Embrace

Don't blame yourself the wrong's in me
You're everything you could've been
I'm just lost 'cause I can't meet your needs

So the scripted conversation ends
And all that's left in my defense
Is knowing we were never meant to be

That's why it's you I'll make it for
That's why it's you I'll make it for
That's why it's you I'll make it for
That's why it's you I'll make it for

There's always room for the one who's left
It never helps to go too fast
Spend your lifetime looking back at him

I don't need another look at you
To realize you're living proof
Of everything I need to lose again

That's why it's you I'll make it for
That's why it's you I'll make it for
That's why it's you I'll make it for
That's why it's you I'll make it for

That's why it's you I'll make it for
That's why it's you I'll make it for
That's why it's you I'll make it for
That's why it's you I'll make it for
That's why it's you I'll make it for
That's why it's you I'll make it for
