Seeds Of Hate

Enchant

I was set loose as a child To find my way out in the wild Fell asleep inside a cage And woke up in middle age

I felt like I was living a lie
And had to escape it all
With mortal fears I shaved off the years
And went from a walk to a crawl

I know I'm reaping what I've sown But I never thought I'd die alone I guess I signed up for this fate By sowing the seeds of hate

And when I finally shook the phase
I was lost and miles away
Got too hard to turn around
I've left no bread crumbs on the ground

I felt like I should have apologized But that was so overdue And by your eyes knew I was despised I guess I was afraid of you

I know I'm reaping what I've sown But I never thought I'd die alone I guess I signed up for this fate By sowing the seeds of hate

So please believe this will that you read That I thought of you everyday I grant to you my hollow legacy Please don't live your life this way

I know I'm reaping what I've sown
But I never thought I'd die alone
I guess I signed up for this fate
By sowing the seeds of hate
Seeds of hate
