Today

Ernest Tubb

Today I'm like a leaf in autumn never again to know the spring Today my heart is at rock bottom sorrow nothing else could bring

But those words you told me just today you said I'm only in you r way

You left me and what could I say for my world ended today I turned and gazed into the darkness but no tomorrow could I se ${\sf e}$

And I remember your remarkets I recall our used to be I have a treasure yesterday something you can't take away I'm lost I'll never find my way for my world ended today
