

Brave New Flesh

Escape With Romeo

I'm riding in a submarine through the waves of a forgotten sea can't remember how I came in here only a pentagram you left for me

I sleep in the crystals of another world for such a long long time escaped from the cliches of daily life now I'm lost again

When will will it turn to ash your brave new flesh

You've crossed the swords of night and day you've killed the demons of fear through the sadness of eternity I am stranded here

So I spent my days with the gods you left behind when I look up to higher places there's a question deep inside
